Subject:- Revised Guidelines for allocation, distribution and disposal of coarse grains procured by the State Agencies/FCI-reg.

The undersigned is directed to refer to this Department's O.M. No.- 7/10/2013-Py-III dated-21.03.2014 and O.M. No.-7-10/2013-Py-III(pt) dated-26.12.2014 and to forward herewith the revised approved Guidelines for allocation, distribution and disposal of coarse grains procured by the State Agencies. The earlier aforesaid guidelines will be superseded by these guidelines.

2. The earlier guidelines has served the purpose of encouraging the procurement of coarse grains by the States which is depicted by the trend of increasing procurement of coarse grains during last three years. During these years several difficulties were being faced by the State Governments with respect to the procurement and distribution period of coarse grains which is primarily 3 months each for respective activities. State Governments requested for increase in the distribution period of coarse grains (as Ragi and Jowar are being stored for longer duration) so that these nutritious grains are being made available to the beneficiaries for longer periods. Keeping in view of these difficulties & requests received from States, this Department has revised the earlier guidelines.

3. These revised guidelines shall be effective from date of their issue.

Guidelines for allocation, distribution and disposal of coarse grains procured by the State Agencies/FCI

Introduction

As per the existing policy of Government of India, the procurement of coarse grains from farmers under Minimum Support Price (MSP) operations is being undertaken through the State Governments/State Agencies in a decentralized mode. Over the period, it has been established that the coarse grains have better nutritional values and many experts have started calling them as 'Nutri-Cereals'. The Government has decided to revise the policy of procurement and distribution of coarse grains in the country, providing active role of State Govt./its agencies for their procurement and distribution on priority under Targeted Public Distribution System (TPDS)/Mid-day-Meal (MDM)/Integrated Child Development Services (ICDS). The revised policy stated herein also provides for time-bound distribution of procured coarse grains as they have shorter shelf life of about three to ten months compared to wheat and rice. The revised guidelines for procurement, allocation, distribution of coarse grains shall be effective from the date of issue. The revised guidelines are as under:

Procurement Plan

1 (i) Before the commencement of each Marketing Season, sufficiently in advance, the State Government should make an assessment of production, marketable surplus, price trend etc. of coarse grains covered under Minimum Support Price (MSP) and prepare a plan for their procurement towards Central Pool of food grains stock from the farmers at MSP in consultation with Food Corporation of India (FCI), clearly indicating the proposed period of procurement. State Govt. should obtain prior approval of the Department of Food & Public Distribution (DFPD), Govt. of India on this plan. Any procurement done by the State Agencies without prior approval of the plan by DFPD will be treated as procurement not done for the Central Pool of FCI and State Government will deal with the concerned coarse grain stocks on their own.

(ii) The procurement plan by the State Government for every Marketing season shall be as per the proforma attached at Annexure-I.

(iii) The state agencies concerned shall provide a daily report of coarse grains procured by them, commodity-wise and District-wise, to the State Government and the Regional Office of FCI concerned in the prescribed manner with a copy to the FCI Headquarters for the entire duration of their procurement operations of coarse grains.

2	Jowar(Rabi)	3	6	9
3	Ragi	3	7	10
4	Bajra	3	3	6

(ii) It shall be ensured that for any commodity the procurement period should not extend beyond three months and it should also not go beyond one month from the end of normal period of harvesting of the concerned crop in the State.

(iii) The State Government/ State Government agencies concerned will ensure that the coarse grains procured by them conform to the uniform specifications prescribed for the Marketing Season concerned for the commodities being procured and they are stored and preserved as per standard practices till their distribution. If any quantity gets damaged due to expiry of shelf life / non distribution of Coarse Grains to the eligible beneficiaries, cost of such damaged quantity shall be borne by the State Govt/UT.

(iv) The Procurement Plan of next procurement seasons will be approved only after distribution of coarse grains procured in previous seasons as per the stipulated conditions of the guidelines. States/UTs shall submit the distribution plan of respective coarse grain well in advance before procurement season. State Government should comply with revised guidelines of coarse grains failing which the proposal of State Government will not be considered.

Inter-State Transportation

Procurement and Distribution of Coarse Grains within the permissible period shall be the responsibility of State Govts/UTs.

(ii) FCI will keep a record of age-wise details of the coarse grains procured by States/UTs or through any other agency, as well as the coarse grains handed over to FCI by the State Agencies for interstate movement. These stocks will be allotted to various needy States based on their requests.

(ii) State Government will get provisional subsidy for this quantity of coarse grains based on the provisional cost sheet approved by DFPD, as being given in the case of procurement and distribution of wheat or rice under DCP mode.
